

Names of Camas Streets:

Old Camas street names were Clara St. and Martha St. These 2 streets were names for the Cowan sisters, very ~~xxx~~popular girls around the turn of the century. Clara Cowan was Bill Sampson's mother. She was related to the Ginders. The picture of the group gathered around the spring includes Clara Cowan and Anna Roffler (Eddy).

Lawrence Beauchamp gave Division Street its name. Shorty Cain and Dick Huycke did the street renaming in about 1935. The Camas Firemen were given the job of renaming the streets at that time. (to make it more logical so they could find the streets faster in time of emergency?)
